

2018 Sonoma Coast
Genevieve's Block Chardonnay

The Genevieve's Block Chardonnay has one of the most distinctive nose of any Chardonnays we have tasted, making this wine a consistent gem in our portfolio. Slow ripening at this vineyard means that this is one of the last Chardonnay we pick each year. With 2018 being the coolest vintage since 2011, a wet winter and spring led to a cool, even, protracted growing season with no heat spikes. The 2018 vintage rewarded winemakers and will reward drinkers with elegant, bright and fresh wines.

A distinctively slow fermentation transforms this Sonoma Coast Chardonnay into a beauty, with star anise, chai spice, and crème-brulée on the nose. The 2018 Genevieve's Block captures the personality of the vineyard perfectly, delivering what has become to be seen as a consistently vivid mouthfeel. Extended time on the vine creates an intensely flavored wine with ample freshness that will lend itself well to extended life in bottle.

This is a classic from the vineyard and with one of the lowest yields that we have gotten from the property to date, the wine will go fast.

Vineyard Notes:

Location

This block of Devoto Vineyard is on a west-facing hillside above the town of Sebastopol. The Chardonnay ripens slowly under the full weight of the Pacific Coast influence and produces a remarkably elaborate and elegant wine.
